IT Solution Professionals Inc. Acquires Online Retailer U.S. Consumables

Grayslake, Illinois (March 29, 2007) - IT Solution Professionals Inc. (ITSP), a leading provider in technology consulting services, announced today its recent acquisition of U.S. Consumables Inc., a nationwide online retailer of computer products and accessories.

Since 1999, U.S. Consumables has been providing discounted computer hardware, software, networking and IT supplies through its e-commerce portal. The company's focus on achieving absolute customer satisfaction has separated it from many other online retailers. The acquisition of U.S. Consumables is a strategic move that will compliment ITSP's core service offerings and bring over 50,000 computer products to their clients. It also enables U.S. Consumables to leverage ITSP's technical knowledge and expertise. The combination is expected to increase ITSP's overall revenue by 25%.

According to Matthew Swajkowski, President and CEO of IT Solution Professionals, "The ability to provide both products and services to our clients will help reduce their total cost of ownership as well as streamline the implementation of their technology projects. This acquisition will enable the company to broaden our scope of services and technical expertise as we continue our growth strategy."
